

HEAVERS FARM

Caring, Learning, Aspiring, Succeeding

Red Nose Day

A massive thank you to the PTA who organised a bake sale on behalf of Comic Relief for Red Nose Day. Thanks to all of the support from parents, pupils and staff. With queues extending into the playground it's not surprising that over £400 was raised for the charity!

It wasn't just the bake sale that showed support for this worthy cause. Many children and staff wore something red to help celebrate the day.

Open Afternoon

Friday 29th of March will see another opportunity for families to come in and see what we've been learning in our next open afternoon.

From 2pm come in and see what's happening in classes (perhaps roll up your sleeves and help out in an art lesson) and enjoy a stroll around the school looking at the displays.

It's not just Book Week, but work on our whole-school topics of Mindfulness and Women's Rights, as well as other learning that has been taking place.

World Book Day Special

This Half-Term we have devoted an entire week to a celebration of books, stories and reading.

The children attended different assemblies and various workshops looking at the work of writers as diverse as Shakespeare and Dr Seuss.

It was an amazing atmosphere all week, with the centrepiece being World Book Day itself on Thursday 7th March. The children really enjoyed celebrating the day by dressing up as characters from books we all love.

Work completed during the week, included learning songs and dances and writing stories based on popular books and their characters. Year 6 even took over the school's twitter feed, bringing Romeo and Juliet into the 21st Century.

PE lessons included games and activities which had been planned to link with the theme each year group had chosen.

To find out more, please visit the year group blogs and try and visit our Book Week Wall in the main school lobby, where you can read book reviews from staff.

Don't forget to take your book token to the shops to pick up your free book. More details can be found on: www.worldbookday.com

To celebrate World Book Day we would like to share with you all the fabulous opportunity to access free e-books for the rest of the school year! To do this simply go to the link <https://connect.collins.co.uk/school/HEAVERSF1/Student/> Select the school and entering the first letter of the last name (A) day and month of birth (1/1) and year group (1).
